Here is How To Use AI for Writing Research Papers?

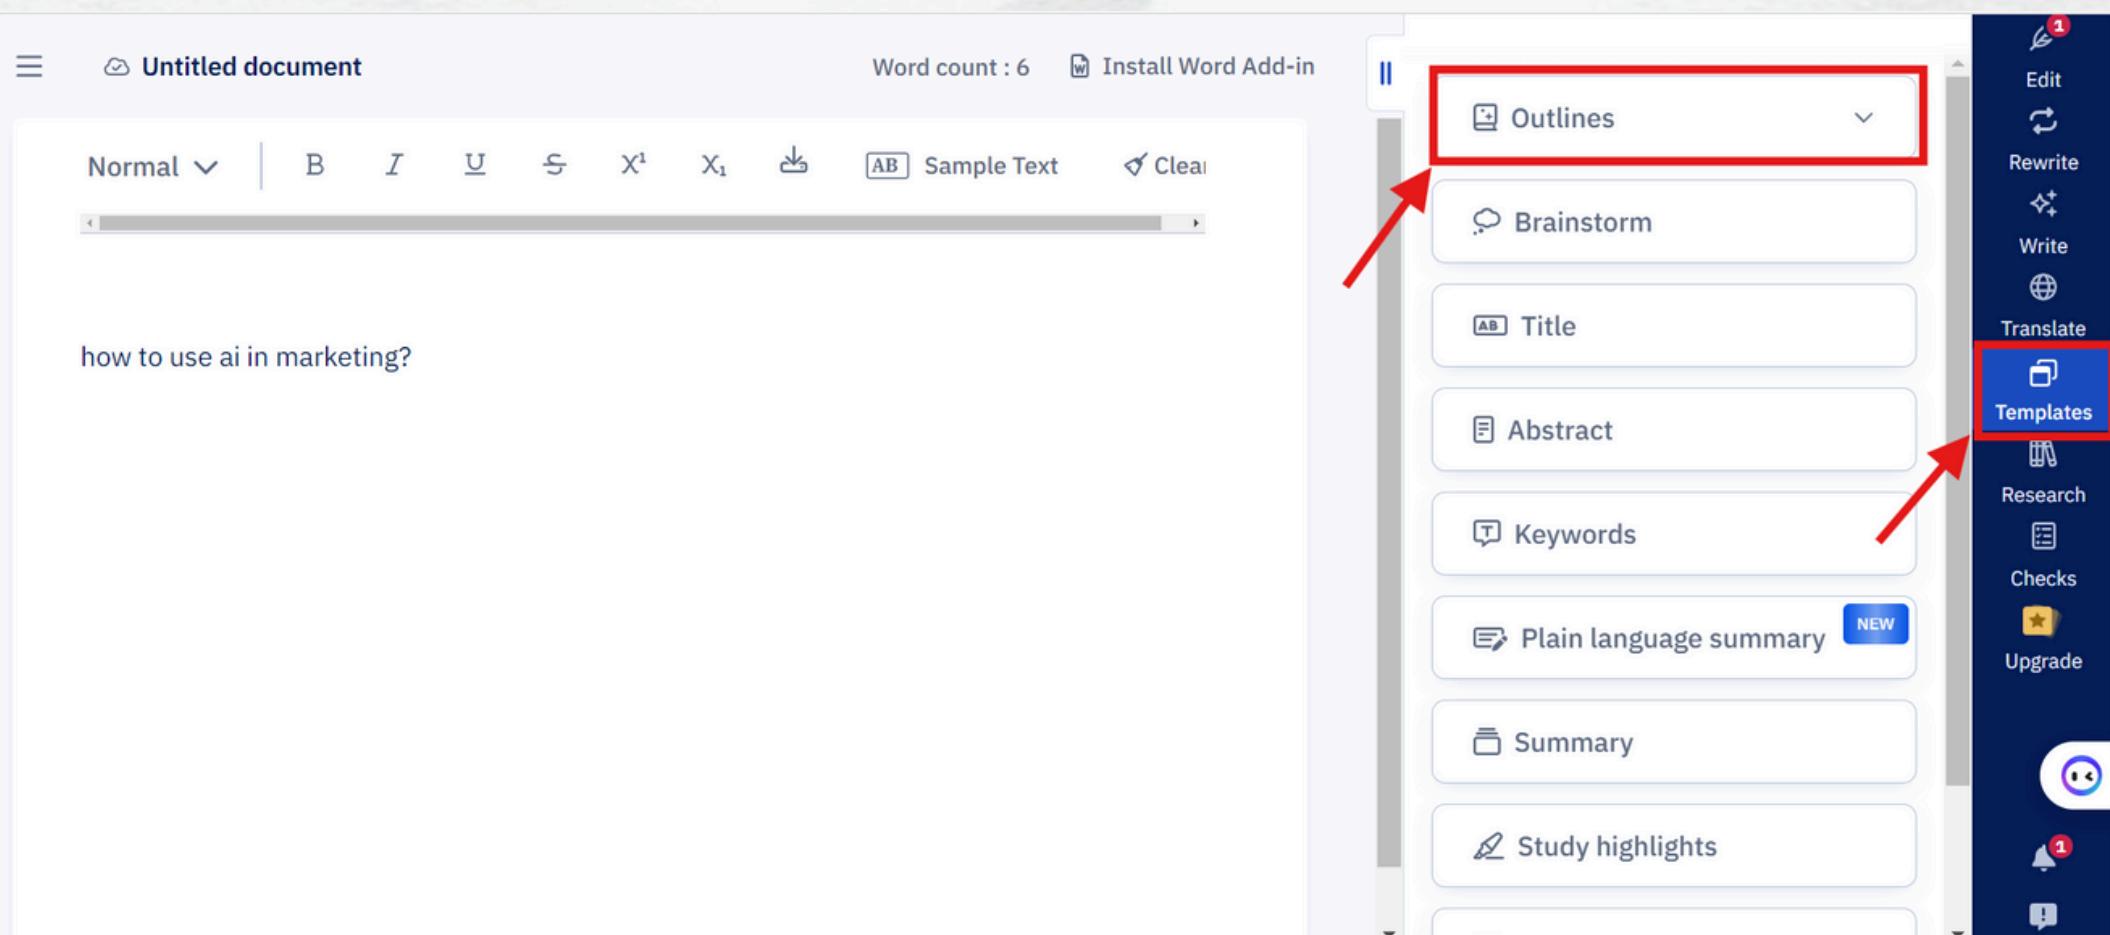

@MUHAMMAD MUNEEB

GO TO PAPERPAL.COM AND LOGIN

The screenshot shows the homepage of Paperpal. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for 'Features', 'Pricing', 'Blog', 'Login' (which is highlighted with a red box and has a red arrow pointing to it), and 'Get Started'. Below the navigation bar, a large yellow banner with the text 'Experience the future of academic writing' is displayed. To the right of this banner is a blue callout box containing the text '...you will be able to write high-level academic quality manuscripts...'. At the bottom left, there is a button labeled 'Start Writing It's Free'.

USE THE RESEARCH FEATURE TO ASK QUESTIONS

A screenshot of a Microsoft Word document titled "Untitled document". The document contains the text "how to use ai in marketing?". The ribbon at the top shows various tabs like Normal, B, I, U, etc., followed by "Word count : 6" and "Install Word Add-in". On the far right of the ribbon, there is a vertical menu with options: Edit, Rewrite, Write, Translate, Templates, Research (which is highlighted with a red box), Checks, and Upgrade. Below the ribbon, the main area shows the research interface. It has a search bar with "Ask a question (min 10 char)" and a "Search" button. Below it, it says "0 / 150". There is a link to "Learn more about Research in Paperpal" and a section for "Recent searches" with two entries: "what is machine learning?" and "what is artificial intelligence?", each with a red arrow pointing to it. At the bottom, it says "Powered by Discovery" and "Your 5 free uses refills tomorrow".

USE "TEMPLATES" TO GENERATE A SUITABLE TITLE AND ABSTRACT BASED ON THE WRITTEN TEXT

The screenshot shows a digital writing interface with a toolbar at the top. The document title is "Untitled document". The word count is 6. There is a button to "Install Word Add-in". Below the toolbar, there are standard text styling buttons (Normal, Bold, Italic, Underline, etc.) and a "Sample Text" input field. The main text area contains the sentence: "how to use ai in marketing?". To the right of the text area is a sidebar with various options: Outlines, Brainstorm, Title, Abstract, Keywords, Plain language summary, Summary, Study highlights, and Email. The "Title" and "Abstract" buttons are highlighted with red boxes and arrows pointing to them from the left. The "Templates" button is also highlighted with a red box and an arrow pointing to it from the right. The sidebar has a dark blue header with white text and icons for Edit, Rewrite, Write, Translate, Research, Checks, Upgrade, and a notification icon.

USE THE PLAGIARISM CHECK FEATURE TO SCAN YOUR DOCUMENT.

The screenshot shows the Paperpal AI writing platform interface. On the left sidebar, under 'PAPERPAL FOR WRITING', the 'Plagiarism Check' option is highlighted with a red box and a red arrow pointing to it. Other options like 'New Web Document', 'Install Word Add-in', 'Submission Check', 'Editing Services', and 'Plans' are also listed. At the top, there are buttons for '+ New Web Document' and 'Install Word Add-in', and a search bar. The main area shows 'My documents' with three document cards: 'Untitled document' (how to use ai in marketing?), 'Untitled document' (Personalized Marketing Campaigns: AI enables hyper-personalized marketing campaign...), and 'Untitled document' (Please provide a sentence (at least 10 words) with a period at the end for the AI to suggest text. Position...).
